ARE ORGANIZATIONS ALIVE?

Webinar by Mr Prashant Hoskote, President and Lead L&S Custodian, Striking Ideas LLC

The Speaker has a storied track record of bringing C-Suite engagements to help improve business and clinical outcomes.

It is no secret that enterprises are more like living organisms. They have stated values. They have a collective aspiration, a mission, and purpose of existence, and they strive to achieve their vision. They desire a reputation and have a character. They hope to be ethical and be responsible. They want to be creative and innovative and learn and aspire to develop capabilities. They adopt good habits (practices). And most importantly, they hope to serve to uplift humanity in ways in which the best can deliver value for those they are associated with.

Every leader shapes the destiny of the enterprise they lead. Running the business and changing and evolving the organization defines the role of the leader. Leaders are indeed the torchbearers in shaping their strategic outlook in exploiting all opportunities.

The Speaker will speak about this new perspective and what it has to do with "Organizations being Alive."
